Non-Negotiable Confidentiality Contract for Families

The following statements are non-negotiable for participants in REACH programs and events.

1. Confidentiality is to be maintained at all times.
 - Do not reveal the first or last names of REACH family members to anyone outside the context of REACH.
 - Do not reveal the location of any REACH event or any REACH contact's home, school, or work.
 - Do not repeat sensitive conversations between REACH participants.

2. If you plan to continue a relationship with a REACH family member/volunteer outside the context of a REACH event, please respect the following guidelines.
 - Exercise caution when utilizing Facebook and social networking sites.
 - Do not label pictures with a child's first or last name.
 - Do not label pictures using the term "REACH". Use generic descriptors like "friends at camp".
 - Any solicitation for personal purposes (i.e. offering services such as counseling, physician referrals, hospital care, etc.) must be authorized by the REACH Program Director.

3. All guests must be cleared by the REACH Program Director prior to visitation.

4. No publications, presentations or media releases of any kind in association with REACH families are allowed without prior approval or collaboration with the REACH Program Director.

5. Individuals not adhering to this contract will not be allowed to participate.

If there are any questions about this policy, please consult REACH Staff for further explanation.
